Love's Young Dream.

When all the world is young, lad,
 And all the trees are green,
 And every goose a swan, lad,
 And every lass a queen;
 Then, hey, for boot and horse, lad,
 And round the world away;
 Young love must have its course, lad,
 And every dog his day.

When all the world is old, lad,
 And all the trees are brown,
 And every sport is stale, lad,
 And all the wheels run down;
 Creep home and take your place there,
 The spent and maimed among;
 God grant you find a face there
 You loved when you were young.

—Charles Kingsley.

Fell Down at the Falls.

Our base ball team played in Spokane Friday and Saturday of last week, much to their sorrow. The score was heavy against the collegians, but this need not be discouraging, as the boys were playing against seasoned veterans whose business it is to play base ball, and who make it their whole study, while our team is drawn from a small number of students who play ball a little while in the spring for amusement. Our team was handicapped further in that some of the regular players were absent, and others were shifted out of their regular positions. When a third baseman is playing short, and an outfielder first, errors are bound to result.

Our boys batted well, even better than the score would indicate, as the Spokane men played a quick, snappy fielding game, and thus deprived our boys of what would have been hits against an amateur team. Bolin, of Spokane, played with our boys the second day, and distinguished himself by making a home run. Manager Grim, of the Spokane club, was kindness itself, and Manager Hooper and the rest cannot say enough in his praise.

GAMES OFF.

We are sorry to write there will be no games with the University of Washington this year. From what we can learn, Manager Remington arranged his schedule without consulting with the faculty, and that body retaliated by expelling Mr. Remington, and repudiating his contracts. This cancellation of dates is very annoying to Manager Hooper and the local enthusiasts, as all the dates, both east and west, were satisfactory. Our manager refused many good games while arranging this schedule in order to accommodate the management of the University, and he is keenly disappointed, as this means not only the cancelling of dates with Washington, but also with Everett and Wenatchee, which games were desirable, both financially and as a measure of strength with the best amateur teams in the state.

THE BIG GAME.

The Sophomores met a picked team of Freshies and Preps. Saturday afternoon, and after battling through six innings in a cold drizzling rain, the picked team won by a score of 10 to 6. Jayne lopped them over for the Sophs., and Johnson chased them, while Stone and Shoemaker did a like service for the motly aggregation. "China" Smith played second for the tribe '04; his playing was a feature—he could not catch the cholera, nor hit the water had he fallen out of a boat. Carlisle's brilliant work saved the day
