ANYONE WISHING TO CONTRIBUTE TO CHINOOK MUST HURRY

From time to time we have asked the student body for their aid in publishing the Annual. At the beginning of this school year our greatest concern was the selling of receipts, so that the undertaking might, at least, be a financial success. At no time in the history of the College has the student body been more loyal, and the number of Annuals sold is far in excess of any previous year. Because of this every effort is bent towards putting out a creditable book.

The next aid that the student body can and must give us is in the way of contributions dealing with college life. These may be of a literary nature, poems and stories, or art work such as cartoons and drawings.

In years past much criticism has often been heaped upon the editor, or those in charge, of publishing a work of this nature, because such and such a body of students or institution had been neglected. We have in mind a certain annual of which was said by some people that it could be called a Freshman-Junior book. Such a charge is entirely unfounded, for no class is denied space for groups and pictures if they are willing to bear part of the expenses. If there is a predominance of a certain class, over another in the Annual. It merely shows more energy and life on the part of that class than partisan feeling on the part of the editor. If any certain organization, taking a deep interest in the work, contributes freely and is well represented, and another is indifferent, the latter will not be represented much to our regret.

The aim of the staff, therefore, is to publish a book in which every phase of college life and activities will be represented, and the purpose of this article is to call the attention of the student body to their last chance to do their school, as well as themselves, justice.

Before many more weeks the book goes to press and all the work must be in by the last of this month or the middle of March. Some of you will undoubtedly say that you lack ability or will wait until another year, when you are better known. This is taking a wrong attitude. Not long ago our attention was called to a new student here, who had written some poetry, some of which had been accepted by one of our leading magazines. Again we are informed that such and such a person is a good artist and invariably we find some very good work.

These instances go to show that we have talent here of which little is known and yet we are in need of your work. It is difficult, however, to reach you, so come to us. Speak to any member of the staff that you meet and will recognize by a large button on their coats.

First Annual Wrestling Tournament.

Coach Bohler has stimulated interest in the wrestling game by inaugurating an inter-class wrestling contest to take place either Feb. 4 or 5. Much of the success of the game will depend upon the interest shown in this meet.

The preliminary matches will be held in the gymnasium next Friday between the Freshmen and Sophomores, and Juniors and Seniors, the winners of these matches going in the finals a week later.

Each class will be represented by a team of six men, the weights being 125, 135, 145, 158, 165 pounds and heavyweight—a lee of five pounds being given in each weight. There are at present from eight to ten men trying out for each team. Most of the men are new at the game, but under the instruction of Daggett and Coach Bohler are fast learning the fine points of the game. The finals will be interesting and the contestants watched closely, as the showing made will be counted upon as entrance to the college team, which will later meet O. A. C. and U. of W.

A couple of boxing matches may be pulled off with the finals.

Interclass Wrestling Tournament.

In 1897 John Jones won the wres-ting championship of the W. S. C. from Col Sapp. That was the last bout held for nearly 11 years. Coach Bohler revived the wrestling spirit last season to some extent and this year he entered it as a regular part of the Physical Culture classes.

Saturday evening the first inter-class wrestling tournament ever held in W. S. C. was pulled off at the college gym, the Sophomores winning from the Freshmen 2 to 3.

The first bout was between North, Sophomore, and Donnelly, Freshman. North won the bout with one fall and two draws. The first fall was won by North in five minutes. Donnelly got a neck hold but could not hold it. North tries a neck hold but loses it. They go to the mat with Donnelly the aggressor. North gets up and gets a scissor hold and wins the fall.

Second bout: Both men spar for holds. North playing cautious. The decision is a draw.

Third bout: A repetition of the second. A draw is called. North is the winner with one fall and two draws.

125-Pound Class.

Ramsey, Sophomore, vs. Brislawn, Freshman. Both rush to a clinch and soon go to the mat, with Brislawn on the defense. Ramsey secures a half nelson and pins Brislawn to the mat in two minutes.

In the second bout both men again rush to a clinch. After an exchange of holds Ramsey secures the bout and match on a nelson and a leg hold.

135-Pound Class.

Brown, Sophomore, vs. Tully, Freshman. One of the fastest matches of the evening. Tully finally winning the bout on aggressiveness.
