STATE COLLEGE, PULLMAN, WASHINGTON, NOVEMBER 26, 1907

NO. 9

"SCORING MACHINE" GETS U. OF W.

In one of the most stubbornly fought games ever played on the University of Washington field, the Washington State College team defeated the Seattle boys last Thursday afternoon by outclassing them in the second half of the contest. The U. of W. team, captained by Bagshaw and coached by Place, played the Crimson and Gray to a standstill in the first half and if anything are entitled perhaps to a shade the best of the argument, but from the start of the second half, Coach Bender's men got down to work with a grim determination to show the Seattle people that just because they were from W.S.C. was no sign the University had a better bunch, and it is a pretty sure guess that every U. of W. man who saw the game and every one of the thirteen men used by Place in the game know that Captain Nissen and his men know the game of football about as well as the Seattle people even if they do attend what the University Wave is pleased to intimate a "cow college not in the University's class."

The game was of the hair raising variety and every inch of ground was fought for by both teams. The University players are a bunch of scrappers and never a bit did they let up until the last whistle blew. But no matter how hard they charged the Crimson and Gray line and no matter how hard they smashed up the scrimmages, the men coached by Bender were never found wanting. Every W.S.C. man was in the game to win, and Hardy, who should have been taken out at the very start of the contest, stayed with the team until taken out, despite the fact that his right arm was useless. If W.S.C. had showed half the spirit in the game with Idaho, the latter would never have beaten the Crimson and Gray.

The game was played on a heavy field, in a drizzling rain before a crowd of about 2500 or 3000 football enthusiasts who kept up a continuous roaring with their yells. W.S.C. was represented by about 200 loyal supporters, many of whom traveled many miles that they might see their alma mater drag the University colors in its own mud. Victory is sweet, but it is all the sweeter for the Crimson and Gray warriors because of the fact that when they made their first appearance on the U. campus, they were greeted with shouts of "Hello Reubens;" "there are the farmers," etc., from the boys' dormitory.

It is not the intention to complain of the treatment received from the U. of W. management. Far be it from that. The relations between the two managements was entirely congenial and pleasant and Manager Rasmussen of the University team was certainly pleasant with all his dealings with the men from Pullman. Thanks are due him. Despite the fact that many of the westsiders were against the game, Rasmussen was courteous in all his dealings, and the ones who were so set against the game and threw slandering remarks at the visitors are probably the "roughnecks" of the school, the very ones who have been repeatedly roasted by the Seattle Times for their disloyal spirit toward the U., and the ones whom the true sportsmen of the west side institution might well be ashamed of.

The game itself was pronounced by Seattle critics one of the best exhibitions of the kind seen there for many a day. For the U. the work of "Polly" Grimm clearly outshone that
